RE: Proceeding 16-106 - Protecting the Privacy of Customers of Broadband and Other
Telecommunications Services

Dear Chairman Wheeler,

It is an open invitation to cripple U.S. Cyber security and near 1-billion machines trusting just the top few security suite OEMs... by providing the FBI and other agencies back-doors to turn off firewall's paid for by subscribers.

Knowing the internet is dangerous to personal IT security has resulted in tens of billions of dollars being spent annually for security.

Every major security breach of this country is from a possessor able to deliver something able to be used against the U.S. Usually at management level. Developing such tools to breach security of hundreds of millions of computers in this country is every enemy's profound dream to destroy or cripple the U.S. Google is just one part in a very foolish agenda. With regret I've been forced to understand brilliance is not an indicator of wisdom but an amplifier of wisdom or foolishness.

The summer of 2011 insurrection against every military government in the mid-east is a CIA success... and terror from the U.S. citizens doing the same against a federal government gone mad against it's own citizens with insane practices. Like proving the U.S. Constitution is a failed document; by destroying its authority from within federal government, rather than defending and equipping the document publically.

If the agenda can not stand in the light of day and clear sight of the governed... it is an act of treason against not just the U.S. Constitution... but the people of the land too.

If only one in a thousand think of consequences and responsibility... then over 300,000 men and women have understanding. If each life touches an average of 100 lives... then 30 million lives is enough to move a nation to better understanding. All that is needed is a vision, a voice that can be heard, and courage.

Sincerely,
Mark Risley
